SEVENTY TO APPLY FOR DRAMATIC CLUB

Seventy applicants for admittance into the Academy Dramatic Club met in the Auditorium Wednesday, Sept. 16. In a brief address by the club's director, the Rev. George A. Stemm, the requirements and prohibitions were enumerated.

The members of this year's dramatic club will consist, with but few exceptions, of Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores. The membership will be limited to forty, and the club will be run upon a strictly competitive basis. The fact that a student has been a member last year does not necessitate his being included in the final membership.

Application blanks for membership were distributed to those in attendance at the meeting. Officers of the club and the student director will soon be selected by the Reverend Director.

Mothers Club Officers To Be Elected Tonight

Permanent organization is the aim of the meeting of the Mothers Club, scheduled to take place this evening at eight o'clock in Saint Joseph Hall auditorium, and to which the mother of every Academy student is invited.

Late last year a temporary organization was effected, the officers and the board of directors serving at the request of the Academy Principal. Now it is planned that these positions be filled for a definite term by popular vote. So all those interested are asked to attend.

Officers to be elected are: President, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and a board of directors composed of one representative from each parish in the city.

306 Academy Students Attend Opening Mass

COLLEGE HAS 250 ENROLLED

Three hundred and six students participated in the solemn High Mass, celebrated by the Columbia President, the Right Rev. Monsignor Thomas Conry, for the official opening of the scholastic year at Columbia Academy, on Sept. 9.

The enrollment at the Academy this year revealed a decrease of but three in comparison with the previous year's registration, in spite of a record-breaking number of graduates, eighty-six, last June. Resident students comprise ninety-five of the total matriculation.

Columbia College opened its year on Wedneday, Sept. 16, with a registration of three hundred fifty students.

New Principal Talks

At the Academy chapel ceremony, the new Principal, the Rev. J. I. Patnode, extended a word of welcome, information and inspiration. During the course of his talk, Father Patnode enumerated the principles upon which Columbia Academy was built. He developed the fact that at the Academy the students have access to many opportunities, which if accepted would cause them to advance spiritually, mentally, and physically. He stressed also the responsibility and accountability that is as a result placed upon each individual student.

Assistant officers of the Mass were Father R. Duggan, deacon, Father D. Coyne, sub-deacon, and Father Churchill, master of ceremonies.

New Students Enrolled In All Academy Classes

Half of Boarders Are New

Of the three hundred seven boys enrolled at the Academy this fall, there are one hundred twenty-five whose names did not appear on last year's registration list.

Among the newcomers, eleven are Fourth Academics, thirteen are Juniors, seventeen are Second Academics, and eighty-four are listed as Freshmen. Half of the resident students are newcomers.

The names of the new registrants are given below.

New Seniors

Emmet Connelly, Quentin Conlon, Carl Effinger, Gerard Finley, Edward Jameson, Dorrance Meloy, Carter Moore, Gilbert Richards, Mark Sanders, Elmer Schloeder, Lawrence Weldon.

Third Academics

Francis Becker, Edward Fail, Philip Friedl, Francis Garvey, Peter Graff, Thomas Kirk, Thomas Masterson, William Masterson, Henry Schloemer, Michael Shanahan, Joseph Sherman, James Walpole, and Charles Waller.

Archbishop Celebrates Mass On Formal Visit

On his first formal visit to Columbia this year, Archbishop Francis J. L. Beckman officiated at a Pontifical High Mass, Friday, Sept. 18, in St. Joseph's chapel, with the faculties and student bodies of both the College and Academy present.

Faculty Takes Oath

One of the features of the ceremony was the profession of faith made and the oath against modernism taken by the clerical members of the faculty.

Archbishop Preaches

After the Mass, Archbishop Beckman spoke on Christian education. He stated that it was most fitting to start the school year with Mass so as to insure success. Catholic education can insure success, because it is guided by Christ the One True Teacher. Catholic parents are duty bound to give their children a real Catholic education and they should not be hindered from doing such for economic, social or political reasons. We, as Catholics, can find contentment in life, for we realize that there is a satisfaction in truth.

NEW APPOINTMENTS MADE IN FACULTY

Various changes in the faculty, including a new Principal, were apparent at the opening of the scholastic year at Columbia Academy on Sept. 9.

Father Joseph I. Patnode, our diminutive athletic director, is capably filling the office of principal vacated by the Rev. William H. Russell, who left the Academy to teach Religion at the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C.

The Rev. Vernon J. Peters, ordained a year ago and serving since as chaplain of Mount St. Agnes, will teach third and fourth year Religion and two General Science classes.

The Rev. John B. McDonald, who returns from a year's study at Iowa University, with his Master's degree, will teach fourth and first year English.

Rev. Timothy Gannon, who taught English last year at the Academy. will teach Philosophy at the College.

Father Luke Striegel has been appointed Spiritual Director, succeeding Father Russell.

Ben Greet Players, Kyrl's Band On Columbia Program

The Ben Greet Players and Kyrl's Band have been signed as the two outstanding offerings on the Columbia entertainment program for the school year.

Students and friends of Columbia Academy will have the opportunity of listening to Kyrl and his band, noted Bohemian interpreters of symphonic band music, during the sec-

Studies and Work Claim Class of '31

MANY CHOOSE COLUMBIA

September finds the eighty-six members of the record-breaking 1931 Academy graduating class engaged in various occupations, scattered far and wide.

Studies have claimed not a few, most of them matriculating at Columbia College. Arthur Kelly and Patrick O'Leary carried nearly a full college course last year; this fall they were joined by thirty-four more faithfuls, and the number will soon be thirty-five.

At Columbia

Those who have entered Loras are: Antonio Castro, Robert Clark, Merlin Conlon, Lester Cooling, Thomas Donahue, Allen Fairfield, Philip Flynn, Paul Frantzen, Henry Gonner, Joseph Graber, Joseph Graham, Chris Hinckley, John Hird, Edmund Juergens, Eugene Kelzer, John Kessler, Carl Koester, Justin Kress, Wilfred Kress, Merlin Maury, William Mentz, John Murphy, Thomas O'Rourke, Charles Palen, Charles Palmer, Clarence Raker, Charles Rhomberg, Harry Rosecrans, Charles Schueller, Clifford Traynor, James Tunnissen, Milton Weimer, Howard Whelan and R. Ziepprecht. Robert

New Principal

Father Patnode, our new principal, has issued the following message to the student body:

"We hope that with the full cooperation of the student body we may be able to keep Columbia Academy going forward and be loyal to the ideals which the past has left us as a precious heritage."

Greetings to Father Patnode

We, the students of Columbia Academy, heartily congratulate our new principal, Father Patnode. He is, in every sense of the word, worthy of this position because of the interest he takes, both in the activities of the students and in the students as individuals. There is perhaps no one who could better secure the cooperation of the students in keeping Columbia Academy a good, wholesome Catholic school to give its students a knowledge of Christ and the information useful for their future worldly career.

We wish Father Patnode many successful years as principal of this institution; we know that he will give its students the greatest and best opportunities that lie within his power.

Welcome to the Newcomers

September has come again and with it the opening of a new school year. Columbia Academy seems favored with a fine group of new students. For some it is the first year of high school; for all the new students it is their first year here. We take this opportunity of extending a hearty welcome to the newcomers, and of giving them our best wishes for a successful year.

There are certain things which help to make a year at school worth while. The most important perhaps is to get the spirit of the school and to make a proper start. A work well begun is on the high-road to successful completion. Getting the right start now will mean much, not only for the remainder of this year, but for all the years to come. This applies not only to the matter of studies, but to athletics, musical organizations, and other activities as well.

As a word of encouragement we would say to the new students that this is YOUR school. Columbia needs you and you need Columbia. With everyone working hand in hand, we will make 1931-32 a banner year in the history of the Academy.

Our Late Principal

The departure of Father Russell for Washington, D. C., has somewhat dampened the usual enthusiasm of the opening of the scholastic year.

We will not here dwell upon his many virtues and accomplishments; it will suffice to say that besides these, he was a man's man, one whom we Columbians were proud to call our pal. He unselfishly gave years of tireless effort to the development of Columbia. She, like a true mother, with an aching heart watches him go and wishes him good luck in the attainment of that future glory, which she knows will be his and hers also, for his glory is her glory.

We do not bid him goodbye because even though he is not with us in person, his spirit will always endure. Nothing more beautifully describes our feelings than that old German saying, "Auf Wiedersehen."

October—Month of the Rosary

The month of October is universally recognized as the month of the Holy Rosary. This form of authorized prayer is popular with the majority of Catholics, so much so that its daily recitation during this month developed into a common custom even with those who do not say the Rosary daily during the rest of the year. In reciting the Rosary we have a two-fold purpose. We glorify God and we honor His Mother. Since the time of St. Dominic the Rosary has been the source through which countless men have received benefits and favors. A beautiful custom is practiced each evening when the resident students recite the Rosary in a body as a part of their evening prayers. We should strive, at least during this month to say the Rosary well, with attention and devotion.

NEW STUDENTS APPROVE OF COLUMBIA

(Inquiring Reporter asks twelve newcomers at Columbia Academy this question: "How do you like Columbia Academy?" They were picked at random.)

Cartier Moore, Cassville, Wis.: "I sure like Columbia Academy! It is the ideal school, I think ;and I know, because I have tried others."

Clair Baxter, Dubuque: "Good sports and good fellowship are the appeals that Columbia holds out to me."

Hilarius Heying, Calmar, Iowa: "To my notion Columbia is the ideal place for any Catholic boy. It gives you a good start in life."

Charles Kelly, Dubuque: "I am sure that I will enjoy my stay here at the Academy."

Edward Figel, Chicago, Ill.: "Yes! I like Columbia. Some of the fellows are swell and then others are not."

Francis Donahue, Tabor, S. D.: "Everything, and even more, that my brothers claimed of Columbia, has been fulfilled."

Eugene Geisler, Dubuque: "I like it very well here at the Academy. Best of all I like the sports and the men teachers."

Clarence Ries, New Vienna, Ia.: "The treatment of new fellows by both teachers and students has made me feel at home at Columbia."

Daniel Tierney, Dubuque: "Columbia Academy suits me fine! I am going to like it here."

Dorrance Malloy, Bernard, Iowa: "The Academy sure has lived up to my expectations."

Louis Murray, Manchester, Iowa: "Sure I like it here at Columbia, especially because we have priests for teachers."

Quentin Conlon, Dubuque: "I am not exactly a new student at the Academy. I have been away for two years and it surely feels good to be back among one's old buddies."

ACADEMY JOTTINGS

Gail Greydon, freshman from Dubuque last year, has registered at the Passionist Brothers School at Normandy, Mo.

John O'Rourke is the only Academy representative to tell the students about the Catholic Students Mission Crusade at Niagara Falls this season. M. Weimer is at Loras and Jim Cis in the Seminary.

The students and faculty were happy to see Miss Margaret Donovan, secretary to Monsignor Conry, able to return to her duties after recuperating from an operation at St. Francis Hospital, Waterloo, this summer.

Patrick Delaney, '32, and Francis Schroeder, '33, are acting as paper sellers for the Propagation of the Faith.

A LETTER TO YOU

Dear Friend or Alumnus:

Wouldn't you like to receive The Cee-Ay regularly and "follow the fortunes of the fellows?" All the news of all the school to all our friends. A dollar bill will pay your subscription for this school year.

Bi-weekly yours,
THE STAFF

STUDIES AND WORK CLAIM CLASS OF '31

Traub, now recuperating from an operation, will also enter the College department.

In Novitiate and Seminary

Donald Kimmich and Wilfred Wanderscheid will enter the Franciscan Novitiate of St. Joseph's College at Hinsdale, Illinois, and James Cis will study at St. Meinrad's Seminary, at Meinrud, Indiana.

At Other Colleges

Leo Lenz has entered Trinity College at Sioux City.

Bernard Moran has registered for a pre-medical course at De Paul of Chicago.

Joseph Coens is attending Notre Dame.

John Weidenfeller has signed up for architectural engineering at the University of Illinois; while Jim O'Connor is at Minnesota U.

John Morris will specialize in physical education at Iowa State Teachers at Cedar Falls.

Bayless Business College claims Edmund Kelzer.

Bernard Tyrrel is practicing electrical engineering and studying at part time school in Chicago, while Maurice Boyd is attending the Milwaukee Electrical School.

Some Actually Work

Wm. Genzler is employed at the Iowa Dairy, Dubuque; and John Neilsen, of "Jacob Dreamed He Saw a Ladder" fame, is working for a packing company in Omaha, Nebr.

Joseph Kraus is a big "butter and egg" man at Sherrill Mound; Arnold Kueper is rivaling him at Herkes Grocery in Dubuque.

Henry Havlik holds a position at the Dubuque Weather Bureau, while Manzo Koppes is employed at Taylor-Yonkers Engraving Co., Dubuque.

Louis Maiers, Raymond Cooney and Harry Anderson are engaged in animal husbandry at Holy Cross, Lawler, and Montana, respectively.

John Lyons is attending night school at Chicago and working with his father in ventilating contracting. Carl Becker and Eldon Kintzle have also decided to help out dad.

Homer Clark and Ralph Vogel are working in Dubuque.

Bernard Clancy has a position in California, while Robert Saunders is with Kies Drug Store in Dubuque.

Is It Yours?

Have you a new idea, an amusing story, anything of interest? If so, it should appear in the Cee-Ay, your school paper. The only apparent reasons for not contributing to the Cee-Ay are: indifference, timidity, or procrastination. To be indifferent is to be disloyal. To be timid, is to be hopelessly old fashioned. Procrastination is the lazy man's last resort. A Columbian is none of these. Support the Cee-Ay! It is your paper, your standard bearer. Let us all get together and not let the Cee-Ay be the work of a few, but rather let it be to us as our country was to Lincoln, a paper of the students, for the students and BY ALL THE STUDENTS.

GUBS AND VARSITY SWING INTO ACTION

ACADEMY MEETS FIRST TEST IN SAINT XAVIER'S

ACADEMY SCHEDULE

Sept. 26—St. Xavier, here.
Oct. 3—St. Joseph, Farley, here.
.. 10—Aquin, here.
Oct. 17—St. Thomas, Rockford, here.
Oct. 24—(Open).
Oct. 31—St. Ambrose, there.
Nov. 7—Cotter, Winona, Minn., there.
Nov. 11—Wayland (Dad's Day and Homecoming), here.
Nov. 21—Des Moines, there.

Coach Cretzmeyer's "Gubs" open their schedule to-morrow with St. Xavier's of Dyersville, the Galena game having been called off.

Not much is known about the Dyersville eleven, but the game will give the first opportunity to see how the Columbia juniors stand up under open fire. So, regardless of the outcome, most of the squad will be tested in action, to find the best performers for the stiff end of that schedule: Saint Thomas, Wayland, Cotter, Ambrose, and Des Moines.

The "Gubs" of this year seem considerably smaller than last year's champs.

Picking co-Captain McDonald's three backfield running mates from a squad composed of Corpstein, W. Parker, Weitz, Lawson, Kerper, Nicks, Voelker and Kennelly, will be no easy task.

Co-Captain Pinger seems to have a job; but the composition of the line is a toss up, with two or three men pretty evenly matched for each position.

Emmett Connelly, a veteran of '29, returned to school and is being closely pressed for a place at guard by O'Dowd, Streff and Kaptain; Captain Pinger, transferred to tackle, is fighting it out with Trow, Klemmish, Schmidt, and Schneider. At present, Lacke and Schloemer seem to be favorites over Propsom and Cullen for ends. McCloskey is giving Ryan almost all he wants at center. But tomorrow will tell part of the tale for all.

Football Squad

Co-Captains McDonald and Pinger; Backes, Bessette, Connelly, Corpstein, Crubel, Cullen, Dress, Dunphy, Ellwanger, Gahagen, E. Geisler, H. Geisler, Gollobitz, Harrison, Heying, Klimesh, F. Klass, Kaptain, Keller, C. Kelly, Kelzer, Kennelly, Kerper, Lawson, Lacke, J. Meyer, V. Meyer, McCloskey, Meloy, Maley, T. Masterson, Nicks, O'Dowd, W. Parker, O'Rourke, Propson, Riley, Runde, Ryan, Sando, Schlomer, B. Schmidt, Gerard Schneider, Gene Schneider, J. Schroeder, Sharon, Spahn, W. Streff, Tarkett, Tomzack, Trow, Trebon, Voelker, Walpole, Weber and C. Weitz.

DONAHUE ASSISTANT MANAGER

Edward Donahue, 3rd Ac, has been appointed assistant student manager. He is to help Joseph Lacke in the issuing of equipment, preparing the equipment for games, and keeping records of it, drawing up of schedules and other work pertaining to athletics.

Improvements Are Noted In Academy Buildings

Father Klott had the paint brush, hammer and saw busy on the Academy buildings during the summer.

The exterior woodwork on the chapel, St. Joseph Hall, and the gymnasium was given a treatment of fresh paint. The floors of St. Joseph Hall were varnished and the dormitories and private rooms were redecorated, new locks being placed on the latter.

Better light fixtures were placed in the library, and its interior was also varnished and painted. The roof of St. Joseph's Hall was made waterproof for many years to come.

The students might thank Father Klott by aiding him in seeing that all things remain in the best of condition.

ALUMNI BRIEFS

Ralph Ellwanger ex '31, Tom Knox '30, and Delmar Linn '28 have registered as freshmen at Loras.

Eddie Farrell '30 has joined his brother Tom at Wisconsin U. He likewise will follow the medical course.

Arthur Weber '25 having finished three years at St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, entered Maryknoll this fall.

Arnold Cullen '29 now in his last year of Engineering at Ames, is collections manager for "The Iowa State Student."

John Lyons, John Neilsen, and Leo Lenz, all of '31, were the first subscribers to The Cee-Ay for the year.

Eddie J. Kolfenbach '28, a junior in the college of education at Illinois U., was one of the honor students there last year.

Emerick Korecz ex '25 will study law at George Washington U. in Washington, D. C.

Tom Nelson '28 is taking the first year of law at Notre Dame. His brother John '25 has opened a law office in the Roshek Building in Dubuque.

Bill Ziepprecht '29 is back at the University of Southern California for his third year of engineering.

Charles Spahn '25 is assistant manager of a department at Carr Ryder and Adams Co., Dubuque.

Don McKenna '29 has continued his spectacular progress in Wisconsin State golf circles. This year he reached the finals in the state meet, and also made a good showing in the state low ball tournament, shooting a 66.

Leonard Loes ex '24 of Key West died during the summer.

One of the summer visitors was Dr. John Schlick '23, now a dentist at Milwaukee and teaching at Marquette U.

Bob Marr '30 dropped in from Mineral Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrance McCabe '14 of Chicago stopped off while on their way to Lawler.

John Collins '29 is enrolled at Notre Dame.

George Barkley '30 is taking Commerce at the Catholic University of America.

INTRAMURAL TEAMS READY FOR ACTION

The intramural football season, for which over one hundred Academy boys have been weighed in at the Columbia gymnasium the past week, will be officially "on" tonight when the Russellers meet the Dodgers in an attempt to wrest from them the major championship won by the day students last year.

The purpose of these teams is to make better men out of Columbia Academy students, both physically and mentally, and to give every boy a chance to play the great national pastime.

Two Leagues

Five teams have been formed, two of boys between one hundred and twenty and one hundred and forty-five pounds, while the members of the remaining three are required to weigh under one hundred twenty pounds.

The personnel of these teams is as follows:

Russellers: Boquist, Mullaly, H. Crubel, Spinner, T. Kirk, J. Weldon, J. E. O'Brien, Delaney, Fitzgerald, Zeizer, E. Donahue, Richards, Friedl, Sando, Shanahan, Humphrey, Knochel, L. Weldon, Carrozzo. Coach: Father Coyne.

Dodgers: Hillard, Lohberg, D. O'Leary, Nenning, J. Meyer, Engler, Strong, Dress, Lenz, J. D. O'Brien, Cox, Jungk, J. Conlon, McMullen, F. Becker, Freund, James Clark, McCollins, Reno, Most. Coach: Father Gannon.

Teenies: Farrel, Ungs, Dwyer, Cleary, Balk, Coros, H. Lynch, Finley, R. Sherman, M. Lynch, F. Donahue, Fogarty, Jones, Barry, McAndrews, V. Murphy, B. Parker, Garvey, De Barr, V. Jameson, Halket, Healy. Coach: Father Churchill. Assistant: Theodore Tracy.

Midgets: Koob, M. Kenny, R. O'Rourke, Kolfenbach, Deggendorf, Norton, Kane, Schaffert, Haley, Powers, Maloy, Berg, Kieffer, McVay, Joe Clarke, O'Halloran, Link, Quirk, J. Riley, Fahey. Coach: Father Ferring. Assistant: George Porter.

Warriors: L. Myers, Juergens Tschudi, D. Driscoll, W. Baxter. Charles Kelly, Butt, Schulte, K. Schmidt, V. Klass, F. Baxter, Gavin, Schrobilgen, Moran, Semper, Willging, Toepel, Murray, R. Schmidt, F. O'Connor, Seymour, Clancy. Coach: Father Enzler.

CEE AY CHANGES MADE

In this issue of the Cee Ay some changes in the staff are apparent and others may be made in the near future.

William Most, '32, editor-elect, was released from his duties as editor at his own request. Walter Tekippe, '32, of Ft. Atkinson, Iowa, and Claude Norton, '34, Dubuque, have been added to the staff during the past week. Among those working on this edition of the Cee-Ay were five prospective members, namely: Clarence Schaffert, '34; Robert O'Rourke, '34; John Farrell, '34; John Schroeder, '33; and Francis O'Connor, '33.

COLLEGE FACES TEACHERS IN FIRST OF HARD SCHEDULE

COLLEGE SCHEDULE

Sept.	26.	State Teachers—there.
Sept.	30.	La Crosse Normal—here.
Oct.	17.	Mount Morris—there.
Oct.	24.	Western Union — LeMars, Ia.
Oct.	31.	St. Ambrose—here.
Nov.	6.	Parsons—there.
Nov.	14.	Simpson—here.
Nov.	26.	Luther—there.

Tomorrow the Columbia Duhawks will meet the Iowa State Teachers at Cedar Falls in Columbia's first game of what looks like a hard schedule with the material available.

Although the State Teachers have a highly touted veteran team, Columbia will go on the field with renewed vigor to avenge the defeat of last season.

Only four veterans, Baldus, Sims, Rieder and Bob Kenline, have returned for the line, and around these men assistant coach Jerry Jones, star guard on the great 1916 Columbia machine, intends to build up a strong defense.

As for the backfield, four lettermen have returned: Roepele, Meneguin, Boland and White. These men will take their old positions and with Charles Russell and Roger Herrmann will build up one of the fastest backfield Columbia ever produced.

After tomorrow's first test, Mount Morris will provide a breather before tackling the other five Iowa conference teams on the schedule; but the same cannot be said for La Crosse. Last year Columbia defeated St. Ambrose, Western Union, Parsons, and Buena Vista, while Iowa State Teachers and La Crosse just nosed out the Purple and Gold. But on the other hand Simpson gave Columbia a severe rubbing. What will come of it, the event alone may tell.

EX-CEE-AY MEN STAR IN SCHOOL PUBLICATION

Bernard Nash, editor of the Cee-Ay in 1930, and James McGuinn, feature writer on the same paper in 1927, have had their latest efforts published.

Mr. Nash is one of the major contributors in a volume, "My Singing Soul," published by Rockford High School, Rockford, Illinois, and devoted entirely to verse. Mr. McGuinn was chosen to be editor of "The Spillway," a volume compiled a la Richard Henry Little's "Line Book," and containing the best writing of the Spillway column in the De Paulia, the undergraduate weekly at De Paul University.

Francis O'Connor Wins Golf, Tennis Tournaments

In the annual golf and tennis tournaments of the Dubuque Country Club, Francis O'Connor, a Junior at Columbia Academy, this summer won his way to the heights, laying claim to the junior championship title in both events for the second successive year.

SEMINARIANS ARE ACADEMY GRADUATES

Of the eighteen graduates of the college class of '31 who are entering the seminary this fall to study for the priesthood, one-third finished their high school course at the Academy.

Leo Drega and Clarence Friedmann of the class of '27 are going to the University of Louvaine, Belgium. John Fagan '26 will take up missionary work at Maryknoll, New York. Laurence Fettig '27 has chosen St. Meinrad's for his place of study. Laurence Greteman will enter St Thomas Seminary, Denver, Colorado. Albert Hoffman is going to the American College at Rome.

William Mullen who spent his first two years of high school at the Academy in '23-'24 is going to the Sulpician Seminary, Washington, D. C. Anthony Letko '29, a Sophomore at Loras, has also entered St. Meinrad's.

TWO ALUMNI KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

During the past summer news was received that two Academy graduates had met their deaths in automobile accidents.

John Trexler, of the class of '29, was killed June 21 from injuries received when his companion lost control of a car in which he was riding.

Late in August, Robert Croake, first student athletic manager and a graduate of Columbia Academy in '28, met an untimely death in an accident near Lake Geneva.

The Academy students extend their sincere sympathy to the parents and relatives.

FATHERS McDONALD, COYNE GET MASTER'S DEGREES

Columbia has two new Masters of Art in the persons of Fathers John B. McDonald and Daniel B. Coyne, Academy professors for the past several years.

Father McDonald received his M.A. degre in English from the University of Iowa which he has attended for the past year. At present he is teaching English to the First and Fourth Academics.

Father Coyne finished his work at the University of Wisconsin during the past summer and received his M.A. degree in Latin. He is now teaching first and fourth year Latin.

CONGRATULATIONS

Leo J. Knepper ex '19 of Bernard, Iowa, and Grace Nolan were married on Sept. 9, in Holy Family Church at New Melleray Abbey.

Irwin Kress '22 was married to Florence Scully of Dubuque, on June 9, 1931, at St. Columbkille's church.

Walter M. Tschirgi '23 and Dr. Arthur Vorwald '22 also took June brides. Mr. Tschirgi married Miss Estelle Fries of Dubuque; Dr. Vorwald's bride was Madalen Foeller of Green Bay, Wis.

On July 4, Douglas Schwartz '26 was married to Irene Judy at St. Mary's church in Chicago.

Another June benedict was Richard J. Kelzer '28. The bride was Mary Margaret Seeck of Dubuque.

242-Pound Tooth Among Columbia's Exhibits

Have you ever seen a 242-pound tooth?

If not, you may find this sight, along with others, as it awaits you in the Columbia Museum on Sept. 30, the date of the official opening for this year.

The Rev. W. G. Kessler of Columbia Academy is the founder of the Columbia Museum, located in Science Hall.

"Through the kindness of the friends and patrons of Columbia, the museum, only four years in organization, has had an almost phenominal growth," enthusiastically declared the Reverend Curator, "and we will be ready to reopen with many new and historically valuable curios."

"The tooth in question is that of an average sized prehistoric monter. It was unearthed by a resident of Alaska.

"The museum has many items of historical value, especially to students of anthropology, ethnology, biology, taxidermology and other fields too numerous to mention."

Father Kessler extended a cordial invitation to all those interested to visit the museum on or after its opening day, September 30.

BAND SEEKS MEN TO CONTINUE GOOD WORK

After the reorganization meeting yesterday the Cee-Ay Band will begin its season in earnest next week under the direction of Father Kelly and Mr. Dovi. It is expected by the directors that there will be many candidates to fill the positions left vacant by the graduates of last June.

There are vacancies in the cornet, clarinet, French horn, and drum sections of the band. All those who have musical ability are urged by Father Kelly to try out on an instrument.

The band will be present at all football and basketball games and at social events. It will also endeavor to put forth a brand of music unequaled by any other high school band of its size and experience.

BEN GREET PLAYERS, KYRL'S BAND ON COLUMBIA PROGRAM

ond week in November, the exact date to be announced later.

Kyrl's concert will take place in the College gymnasium, where Columbians listened to the stirring music of the Navy Band last year. Kyrl's organization is of nation-wide fame and should be well received in Dubuque.

Another high grade entertainment for this year's program is the coming of the Ben Greet Players, celebrated Shakespearean company, on April 4, 1932.

The Ben Greet Players will probably present "Hamlet," although this is not certain.

These are just the two main entertainments on the program, there will be the usual select group of speakers and musicians and several plays by the College and Academy dramatic clubs.

ENLARGED GLEE CLUB SAYS FATHER KELLY

The Academy Glee Club will be greatly enlarged this year, according to an announcement made by the director, Father Kelly.

Many young boys will be taken in, as there are prospects for soprano and alto sections. The tenors and basses will number about the same as last year.

The new policy opens the organization to all Academy students, and Father Kelly urges every one to try out. It is an opportunity to learn to sing and also to use the speaking voice—an art so essential for dramatics.

BULLETIN: PROFS. STUDY!

Father Kelly, head of the Music department of the Academy, studied at the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, under the direction of the famed composer-musician Leo Sowerby this summer.

Father Ferring specialized in Latin during the summer at Iowa University.

Father Stemm took special work in Dramatics at Northwestern during the summer.

PRAYER LEADERS TO VARY

This year Father Striegel will act according to the Latin idiom, "Favores Ampliande" in his appointment of prayer leaders for the resident students. With this principle in mind Father will introduce the methor of changing prayer leaders each month thus giving many of the senior a chance.

The prayers included are the morning prayers, concert prayers at Mass, and novena prayers.

Oliver Runde has been appointed captain of the Rosary. His duty is to remind the appointed men of their turns and to instruct them in their duties.

THE WASTE BASKET

The 40 union bricklayers who "walked off the job" on the Rockne Tower had not returned to work today.—Oklahoma Paper.

Mr. Czizek, popular president of the H.I.H.P. fraternity (How I Hate Physics) will hold a meeting of this frat on September 31.

Bug House Fables:

And now, ladies and gentlemen, you will listen to Abie Boquist and his Bohemian Bugle Blowers for a delightful hour of stirring music (Mostly stirred).

Father Coyne's Russellers look plenty good, but we think the Dodger Coach is capable of holding a few aces up his sleeve.

Do you remember way back when:

Our Dean was a Major (R. O. T. C.)?

Father Duggan was a violin graduate?

Father Stemm was a dramatic artist?

Peter Propsom was a freshman? (Oh! Yeah)

Preliminary Meeting of Mission Society Held

A preliminary meeting of the Catholic Student Mission Crusade was held in the Academy Auditorium Monday, September 21. The purpose of this meeting was to welcome and give to the new students an idea of the work.

The meeting was opened by the reverend director, Father U. Churchill, who spoke of the missionary work on hand and of how Jesus Christ Himself started this great work of the missions. John O'Rourke and A. Balk, former members and officers, gave short talks. Mr. O'Rourke explained the purposes of the organization, while Andrew Balk spoke on its action and plans.

In the next two weeks it is planned to hold another meeting to organize for the year's work.

C. Kelly: "Do you think there is any chance of my getting my poems printed in the Cee-Ay?"

J. O'Rourke: "There may be. I shan't live forever."
